

About 100 Medicos Meet Here Today for Talks Of Scientific Nature

Dr. B. W. Gifford, of Saugerties, Presides at Opening Session This Morning—Dr. Voss Gives Welcoming Address.

SEVEN COUNTIES

Third District Branch Meeting Here Comprises Seven Counties in Region.

With the attendance of between 80 and 100 physicians and surgeons at the morning session, the 31st annual meeting of the Medical Society of the State of New York opened at the Governor Clinton Hotel about 10:30 this morning.

Dr. B. W. Gifford of Saugerties, president of the Third District Branch, which includes the counties of Albany, Greene, Columbia, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Sullivan and Ulster, presided at the morning session. Dr. Gifford presented as the first speaker Dr. Fred H. Voss of Kingston, president of the Ulster County Medical Society, who gave the address of welcome. Dr. Voss said:

Dr. Voss's Reception.

Mr. Presidents, fellow practitioners and honored guests. It is with a great deal of pleasure, as it is a distinct honor, that I, as president of the Medical Society of Ulster county, welcome you here for this meeting.

The "Governor Clinton", no doubt brings to your mind the name of the first governor of New York state. So also, the Medical Society of Ulster County is one of the oldest in New York state, having been organized in 1806. It means the type of practitioner who settled in Ulster county realized from the beginning the value of an organized society, to hold meetings and discuss the clinical and scientific aspects of medicine and surgery. These pioneers had to overcome many obstacles in their efforts to give better medical and surgical service—what a contrast today, with our aids for rapid travel, communication, hospital, laboratory and traveling facilities. These modern aids have made it possible for any practitioner, whether in a country hamlet or city, to give the best possible service to his patients.

The building of good roads from farm to market make it possible to transport quickly all the patients to a modern hospital—approved laboratories, distributed throughout, give accurate diagnosis on specimens submitted, and the U. S. Government and State Health Departments care for and direct the measures to insure better public health; today, we are able to enjoy the services of the practitioners of the several counties, joined together to hear scientific papers on subjects of vital interest to all. It is bringing to us real post graduate study, to make us better practitioners. So that you may all obtain the most from this meeting, as president of the Medical Society of Ulster County, I now extend to you a sincere and cordial welcome.

The first number of the scientific program of the day was a discussion of "Malignancy" as seen by the General Practitioner, by Dr. Louis C. Kress of the State Institute for the Study of Malignant Disease, Buffalo, N. Y. and was in the form of answers to questions propounded by Dr. Arthur M. Dickinson of Albany.

Comprehensive Talk.

It was a comprehensive discussion of the methods of diagnosing and treating cancer of the various parts of the body that may be employed by the general practitioner and dealt especially with the etiology and early symptoms of cancer of the breast, uterus, stomach and rectum. It also included a discussion of Hodgkin's disease. Dr. Kress gave a valuable picture of the advance that has been made in the diagnosis and treatment of these various types of carcinoma and the part that is played in their treatment both by surgery and by radiation.

Speaking of carcinoma of the stomach Dr. Kress said that tracing its cause was a matter of difficulty; it was found in people of varying classes and conditions and of varying modes of living. As to the relation between it and peptic ulcers, he said that available statistics showed that from two to ten per cent of the latter developed malignant. Probably, said he, the great majority of cases result from some kind of ulceration. In his opinion surgery alone was the treatment.

Seek Advice Late.

In discussing carcinoma of the rectum Dr. Kress spoke of the fact that in too many cases those suffering from such ailments failed to consult competent authority until the disease was well advanced, meanwhile depending on the drug store and various unproven curative agents in vain. He emphasized the fact that the hope in these cases is early diagnosis and treatment.

Elting Again Leads Republican Party As County Head

Philip Elting, who for over 33 years had led the Republican forces of Ulster county, with defeats at the polls few and far between during that time, was again the unanimous choice of his party workers for another two years term as county chairman.

Mr. Elting's re-election, as well as the re-election of the other officers of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee, took place at the largely attended meeting of district committee members, representing the 90 election districts of the county, held in the court room at the court house Wednesday night.

Other officers re-elected were: Dr. Alice Divine, Ellenville, vice-chairman. James A. Simpson, Phoenixia, secretary. Christopher K. Loughran, treasurer.

The following Judicial Congressional and Senatorial committees were named:

Third Judicial District Committee—Roscoe V. Elsworth, John F. Wadlin.

Twenty-seventh Congressional District Committee—J. Charles Snyder, Harry T. Williams.

Twenty-ninth Senatorial District Committee—John B. Sterley, Robert A. Snyder.

On motion the rules now in force were adopted as the rules governing the County Central Committee for the next two years. Chairman Elting stated that the committee had a small balance in its treasury, adding that he was proud of the fact that the committee always paid its bills and never carried over a debt.

Vanderlyn T. Pine, candidate for county treasurer; Norvin R. Lasher, candidate for coroner; Assemblyman J. Edward Conway and John J. Schwenk, candidate to succeed himself as alderman-at-large, were introduced and addressed the meeting. Mayor C. J. Heiselein was present during the early part of the proceedings, but was compelled to leave to attend another meeting.

Only One Brand in Party

Fred Stang, clerk of the Board of Supervisors, was asked if he wanted to say something about the Young Republicans. He replied that so far as Ulster county was concerned there was only one brand of Republicans and that was the kind that believed in good county government as emphasized by Chairman Elting, who had the faith and confidence of all.

In accepting the chairmanship of the county committee for another term Mr. Elting said that he did so with the assurance that he would be given the support that had been accorded to him by the party workers in the past.

He recalled his induction into the office in April, 1904, following the resignation of Charles Davis. One of the first matters taken up was to have named one committeeman for each of the election districts in the county. This plan proved successful and was continued until the law provided for two such committeemen. Previous to this plan, said Mr. Elting, representation was unequal, one idea being to place prominent men upon the committee with little regard to sections of the county represented.

Chairman Elting stressed the importance of the committeeman and said that the election district was the unit for political effort. It is there that the work must be done and it is there that the vote is cast. He gave to the committeemen of Ulster county much of the credit for the successes that have been achieved during past years.

The county chairman again emphasized his firm belief in strict party government and responsibility, adding that if the people are given good government the party and organization should have the credit for it.

The committeemen were reminded of the importance of the constitutional convention to be held next April. They were told that the agricultural sections and the people of upstate New York should be intensely interested in the make-up of this convention as possible changes in the constitution might mean that they would be deprived of the representation now given them and complete control of the state thrown into the hands of the cities. As it now stands each county has at least one representative in the assembly, which would not be the case should control of the convention and adoption of certain changes make it possible to consolidate counties and reduce upstate representation.

Voting Machines

Attention was also called to the fact that next year all towns will have voting machines. The chairman said that many voters, where machines are now in use, are not apparently familiar with their workings. He called attention to the large increase in the Socialist vote in these cases is early diagnosis and treatment.

Fall and Winter Program for Boys Opens on Oct. 4

Sidney Lutzin, in charge of boys' activities in Kingston, stated today that the city recreation committee has arranged to open the fall and winter program for boys on Monday afternoon, October 4, at 4 o'clock at the local Y. M. C. A. when the Hasbrouck Boys Club will meet at the "Y". Mr. Lutzin said that the three boys' clubs who will use the facilities of the Y. M. C. A. again this fall and winter will commence the fall program next week.

Next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Schenck Boys' Club will meet at the "Y" and the Rotary Boys' Club will meet at the same place on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Last winter the clubs met at 6 o'clock in the evening but this winter the hour has been changed to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It is planned that the boys will have an hour of gym work followed by half an hour in the swimming pool. The swim will be followed by the regular meetings of the clubs. The clubs will be organized along the same lines used successfully last winter each club having its own mayor, alderman-at-large, chief of police, common council and other city officials and departments.

The program in the municipal auditorium will open for the season on Saturday, October 16, when the building will be turned over to the boys from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon for supervised sports and play activities.

The work so successfully carried on during the summer vacation months in the city's playgrounds will be carried on this fall and winter indoors.

Mr. Lutzin is planning to increase the scope of activities this year over the program that was used last winter.

BALTIMORE PARK RAZED BY THIRD LARGEST FIRE

Baltimore, Sept. 30 (AP)—The third largest fire in the history of Baltimore destroyed Carlin's, the city's largest amusement park, early today, injuring two firemen and causing more than $250,000 damage.

Ten alarms called out 60 pieces of apparatus to battle the spectacular blaze. The fire alarm bureau said more alarms had been sounded only twice before—in the great city-wide fire of 1904 and in the fifth regiment armory fire a few years ago.

Firemen Carl Cramer and Harry Smith were slightly burned.

No Word of Ross

Chicago, Sept. 30 (AP)—The fate of Charles S. Ross appeared as uncertain today as the next move of his three kidnappers. Five days of intensive investigation produced several clues but none offered an immediate solution to the wealthy 72-year-old retired manufacturer's abduction.

Investigators had virtually a complete record of his actions from the time he left a Sycamore, Ill., hotel until he was taken from his car on a highway 15 miles west of Chicago Saturday night. There the trail ended.

TELLS PROJECT

Provides Wider, Deeper Channel and Parallel Dykes to Improve Navigation System.

In connection with the hearing October 26 in Kingston, conducted by the War Department, concerning certain improvements to Rondout harbor and creek, the War Department has issued the following letter and informative questionnaire to aid those interested in preparing data sought at the hearing:

War Department, United States Engineer Office, N. Y. District, New York, N. Y., Room 710, Army Building, 39 White Street, New York, N. Y., September 28, 1937.

Notice of Public Hearing.

To whom it may concern: A public hearing will be held in the Board of Health Room, City Hall, Kingston, N. Y., at 11 a. m., Tuesday October 26, 1937, to consider the advisability of further improvement of Rondout Harbor and Creek.

The existing project for this waterway provides for a channel 100 feet wide, widened at the bends and 11 feet deep from deep water in Hudson river to the Highway Bridge, 1 1/2 miles above the mouth, thence 12 feet deep to the west end of Island Dock, 1.8 miles above the mouth, two parallel dykes 350 feet apart, to maintain the channel, and for a branch dike to extend upstream from the outer end of the north dike to protect that dike from running ice in Hudson river.

All parties interested or concerned in the above-mentioned waterway are invited to be present and to be represented at the hearing to express their views on the subject. It is requested that all concerned cooperate by furnishing to this office information that will lead to a correct conclusion as to the advisability of improvement of the above-mentioned waterway by the United States. It is especially desired to obtain the views of navigation and commercial interests, the officials of municipalities and towns, and of local associations whose interests may reasonably be expected to be affected.

Oral statements will be heard, but for accuracy of record, all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, in triplicate, as the records of the hearing will be forwarded for consideration by the War Department. Written statements may be mailed to the United States Engineer Office, New York District, New York City, or handed to the district engineer at the hearing.

There is enclosed a questionnaire for guidance in the preparation and submission of information concerning the improvement.

Kingston Record Perfect in Nation's Safety Ranking

Kingston and Poughkeepsie are listed by the National Safety Council as cities with a perfect record in today's report estimating that traffic accidents cost the lives of 24,520 people during the first eight months of this year.

According to the Associated Press, the Safety Council, in stressing that death is settling a record-breaking pace along the nation's streets and highways, reported that the total was 11 per cent greater than the 22,160 recorded in the corresponding period of 1936—the year the all-time high mark of 26,590 was established.

Deaths numbered 3,850 in August compared with 3,740 in the same month last year. But statisticians pointed out the August increase of three per cent was more than matched by the 14 per cent rise in automobile travel as gauged by gasoline consumption figures, while the 11 per cent increase in the first three quarters of 1937 was equalized by an identical upswing in motor mileage.

They expect the deaths-per-mile ratio to be somewhat lower than in 1936 if the current trend holds.

New York led the cities in the eight months death column with 528. Chicago, with 511, ranked second.

However, New York had the lowest traffic fatality rate among the most populous centers.

On the basis of deaths per 100,000 residents, the council made this ranking:

Cities of more than 500,000—New York, 11.1; Milwaukee, 11.8; Boston, 12.

From 50,000 to 100,000—Baltimore, N. J., 1.4; Mount Vernon, N. Y., 2.3; Hoboken, N. J., 2.5.

From 25,000 to 50,000—Chicago, Mass., 3.0; Poughkeepsie, N. Y., 3.0; Green Bay, Wis., Taunton, Mass., Fargo, N. D., Banor, Me., Kingston, N. Y., and Beverly, Mass., each had a perfect record.

The resolution must be submitted to the league assembly for adoption before it becomes effective. This step will probably be taken Saturday.

The draft of the resolution contained eight paragraphs, of which the following was an unofficial summary:

Affirms that "every state is under obligation to refrain from intervening in the internal affairs of another state."

Communists Unite with Old Enemies in Effort to Resist Japanese in Eastern Hopeh Province.

JUNKS SUNK

Japanese Continue Reign of Terrorism by Sinking Citizens' Junks.

Shanghai, Sept. 30 (AP)—Two hundred thousand more Chinese Communists were ordered to the north China front today to stem the relentless advance of the Japanese army, as Chinese outside Shanghai held their positions with no signs of weakening.

Communist forces in Kiangsi province were ordered to join Nationalist troops, their old enemies, as the Japanese advanced through eastern Hopeh almost to the border of Shantung province. With their offensive in central and north China being pushed vigorously, Japanese sources declared their information indicated Marshal Vassily Goltzchenko, commander-in-chief of Soviet Russia's Siberian forces was advising the Chinese army.

An American observer declared today that China's clans are uniting against the common foe as never before in the celestial land's three thousand year history.

"So long as China has iron for trench spades and steel for big swords, Japan can never conquer her," said John Early Baker of Eagle, Wisconsin, director-general of China's national famine relief commission.

After a six month survey of conditions in the Yangtze valley, while many war lords in Szechuan and other rich provinces operated independent governments for centuries past, they are coming unreservedly to Nanking's aid now, Baker said.

The present war, he added, has done more to unite western China with the central (Nanking) government than anything in the last 500 years.

Baker said ten of thousands of troops are leaving interior and coast cities daily for Hankow and Nanking, from which points they are distributed to the north China and Shanghai fronts.

Recruiting is so intensive throughout the Yangtze valley that there no longer are available billeting accommodations, he added.

The Japanese either deliberately are bombing non-combatant hospitals, schools and universities, or they are the world's worst marksmen."

Russia Aid Charged

Shanghai, Sept. 30 (AP)—Japanese sources declared today they had information indicating that the commander-in-chief of the Russian army in the Far East, Marshal Vassily Goltzchenko, was actively directing the Chinese military strategy against Japan.

The Japanese "big push" against the Chinese defense lines northwest of Shanghai was fought to a standstill.

At midday, after more than 24 hours of desperate fighting, a Japanese spokesman admitted only minor gains had been made, although he claimed a slight advance at all points except in the Kiangnan sector had made possible another general offensive.

The Domei (Japanese) news agency reported from Nanking that Marshal Galentis-Blucher was directing the Chinese resistance by telephone from his Siberian headquarters.

Twice daily, the Domei dispatch said, the Russian marshal was in communication with E. D. Lepin, military attaché of the Soviet embassy in Nanking, receiving the fullest reports and advising on troop operations.

The dispatch declared that the road across the western province of Sinkiang was choked with trucks bringing munitions and other military supplies into China from Soviet Siberia.

Across Sinkiang, the Soviet ambassador, Dmitri Bogomoloff, raced aboard a special plane to Moscow for a conference that observers said would have a vital bearing on Russia's future course in the undeclared Sino-Japanese war. Bogomoloff was expected to arrive in Moscow today.

200,000 to Join Chinese

At Nanchang, Kiangsi Province, 200,000 scattered Communist Chinese troops were ordered by their commander, Gen. Mong Ying, to move into North China and join their comrades who recently made peace with the central government and were organized into the eighth route army which is now fighting the Japanese in Shansi Province.

Japanese reported that their advance in North China had carried them through eastern Hopeh Province to within 15 miles of the border of Shantung Province. They asserted the column operat-

Doctor Says Nurses Becoming Wrecks

Lake Placid, N. Y., Sept. 30 (AP).—New York state's nurses pondered today the statement of a prominent New York city physician that they are becoming physical and mental wrecks because of "too much responsibility."

In an address before the annual convention of the New York State Nurses Association last night, Dr. C. Ward Crompton, an authority on public health, urged periodic health examinations for all nurses "as a way out."

"To mankind experienced in suffering, the nurse holds a place second only to God and the physician," he declared. They have won this place by their increased success in skillful service in the hospital, office, institution, community and public health.

"The burdens now being placed on nurses are breaking them physically and mentally and they defeat the nurses' purpose . . ."

Dr. Francis B. Trudeau of Saranac Lake asserted that nurses caring for the tuberculous patient must be able to create interest in crafts and other arts, in addition to meeting all the other requisites of nursing.

Dr. Trudeau stressed the need for nurses to carry on family education in tuberculosis work.

took advantage of the opportunity offered to question him further on some of the points he had brought up.

The second speaker of the morning was Dr. Milton C. Winteritz, of Yale University School of Medicine, who spoke on the "Pathology of Vascular Disease." In addition to the scientific value of Dr. Winteritz's address, which was illustrated with lantern slides showing various arterial conditions, the doctor displayed a distinct sense of humor which added to the interest of his remarks.

The morning program closed with a lantern slide demonstration by Dr. George F. Cahill of New York city, "Presenting Symptoms and Diagnosis of Renal Failure."

Following luncheon and introduction of guests at one o'clock, the members of the Society reassembled at two o'clock for a business meeting, following which the scientific program of the afternoon was taken up.

Afternoon Speakers

Speakers this afternoon were Dr. Charles H. Goodrich of Brooklyn, president of the Medical Society of the State of New York, who spoke on "Preventive Medicine."

Dr. Benjamin I. Ashe, of New York city, who told of how to analyze a Case of Bright's Disease.

Dr. Howard F. Root of Boston and Dr. Stephen H. Curtis of Troy, in a "Dialogue on the Use of Potassium Zinc Insulin and Other Diabetic Problems."

Elting Again Leads Republican Party

who believed that they were voting their own ticket, but pulled down the wrong voting machine levers when casting their ballots. He estimated that Republicans lost at least 500 votes in the county last year through errors of this nature. Another frequent error was committed by voters who pulled down the proper levers, but then threw them back before leaving the booth, thinking that they had voted whereas as a matter of fact they had voted a blank ballot.

Assemblyman Conway in addressing the meeting said that the one great question in state and nation today is "Where are we going and when shall we arrive?" He added, "No one knows." He found the present administration gambling with the future of generations to come and saw in the condition a sad state of affairs.

The Assemblyman contrasted the attitude of Chairman Elting, saying that he had always stood for sound, conservative government and "always knew where he was going." Closing with an earnest appeal for support of the constitution and the rights of the whole people he saw but one way out of the present maze—through a return to the Republican party and its principles. He asked the workers present to do everything in their power to help pile up such a tremendous Republican majority that it would be impressive.

Prefers Mahoney

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP).—Senator Royal S. Copeland said today that "with two New Dealers to choose from" he preferred to support the candidacy of Jeremiah T. Mahoney for mayor of New York. "I'll campaign for him if he wants me to," Copeland said. Mahoney, aligned with New Deal forces, defeated the anti-New Deal Senator for the Democratic primary nomination and Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia won from him in the Republican primary. Copeland came to Washington to address the convention of the International Association for Identification tomorrow.

Resigns Today

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP).—Federal Reserve Board, disclosing Joseph A. Broderick has bidden them goodbye said he would tender his formal resignation today. They said Broderick will join the staff of a New York savings bank.

Application Refused.
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 30 (AP).—New York's Board of Standards and Appeals disapproved today the application of the National Federation of Labor, Inc. for a state certificate of incorporation on the ground it is not in the interests of sound policy. The board, of which William J. Picard is chairman, said that the similarity in name of the proposed corporation to that of the American Federation of Labor "would tend to create confusion and to deceive or induce persons to join the National Federation of Labor."

England Sells Planes to China.
London, Sept. 30 (AP).—The British Air Ministry disclosed today the government had sanctioned officially the sale of British military aircraft to the Chinese government. The Gloster aircraft company already has delivered an unspecified number of heavily armed fighting planes and holds permits to export additional fighters.

The phrase "almighty dollar" was coined by Washington Irving.

NEW BICYCLE LAWS

The increased popularity of bicycles throughout the state has prompted additional legislation, effective tomorrow, in an effort to reduce cycling hazards. The new amendment will require front and rear reflectors, the front reflectors to be yellow and the rear reflectors to be red. Bicycles in operation during the period of one-half hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise must be equipped with and display a lighted lamp which shall be visible from at least 500 feet ahead of the vehicle and project either white or yellow light.

Bicycle equipment must also include a horn, bell or other signaling device to produce a sound sufficiently loud to serve as a danger warning.

The new equipment, together with strict enforcement of traffic rules is expected to bring results. Rigid enforcement of traffic laws will mean arresting all cyclists who ride on the wrong side of the street, cut in and out of traffic, ride through traffic lights set red, fail to observe the full stop signs, zig-zag in front of approaching cars, cut circles in the center of the street and carry another on the handlebars.

Children under 16 years arrested for any of the above violations will be haled into children's court on charges of juvenile delinquency. Parents do not want their children brought into court; therefore it is up to them to sufficiently impress their youngsters to obey the law.

JUMBO RIVALRY

"Jumbolsm," according to Dr. Samuel Stevens of Northwestern University, is the urge to produce or possess the "biggest" this or that, or to make the biggest noise. It is the psychological foundation of all the hog-calling, husband-calling, tall corn, tall hollyhock and big-building contests.

It is not particularly new either to this country or to the human race, but it has had some rather startling manifestations in recent weeks which suggest that it is gaining on us. There was the matter of the corn stalks, in which Iowa, the state "where the tall corn grows," was challenged by several other states and finally lost the argument to Ohio when the latter brought forward a stalk nearly a foot taller.

Anyone who has been reading the newspapers through the harvest days can think of other jumbo contests. More are to be expected, says Dr. Stevens. The thing seems to be in an epidemic stage. Well, it's fun for some folks to excel in anything they've undertaken. It's just as much or more fun for some other folks to enjoy their achievements privately. To the latter, jumbolsm seems a little childish.

WHY THE KILLING?

A great many people feel like the Japanese schoolboy who went to the counselor of the Chinese embassy at Washington and said he wanted to know "why all this killing should be going on." Counselor Zaung Teh Ing explained that as far as the Chinese are concerned, they are killing the Japanese because they object to the Japanese killing them. That sounds reasonable, but doesn't explain the Japanese.

The Japs' explanation is that they are killing the Chinese because they want the Chinese to love them and buy their goods. Also because they need China's coal, iron and other natural resources for their growing population. But people being as they are, the more Chinese the Japs kill, the less the Chinese love them and buy their goods. As for those natural resources, the Chinese seem to need them more than the Japs do, because there are more Chinese; and besides they seem to make sense. And if we proceed to analyze most other wars, we might come to the same conclusion.

A HAIN FOR SIN

One of the most remarkable things in present medical practice, physicians say, is the rapid extension of the use of X-rays. They are usually thought of by laymen as being used only for cancer. The fifth International Congress of Radiology in Chicago revealed that they are used now for many other diseases so deeply seated in the body that it is hard to reach them with a surgeon's knife. Among these are sinus infections.

According to Dr. Fred M. Hodges of Richmond, Va., a study of 2,000 cases of chronic sinus trouble shows that most of such cases readily respond to the X-ray therapy. Many cases in which medical or surgical treatment has failed, he says, are greatly benefited. He recommends the treatment for "selected cases." This would be more surprising if some progress had not been made also in the use of ultra-violet rays for sinus infections. It is a cheering development, in view of the wide prevalence of such ailments and the varied troubles now attributed to them.

Chapter 40

Back To The Ships

"HELLO, Johnny," said Neil. "This is the guy who passed out in your cab Monday night, and whom you took to the Stafford. You came back the next morning to see how I was. Remember?"

"Sure, I remember you."

"Are you free, Johnny? Are you free for the whole night? I want to make a trip into the country."

"Well, I could be," said Johnny hesitatingly.

"Oh, I'll make it all right with you. I've got the jack."

"Okay, then," said Johnny.

"Good boy! Fill up your tank and meet me on some quiet corner off the center of town. You say where, and I'll drive there in another cab."

"Take it the corner of Lombard and Eutaw. That's quiet enough at this hour."

"Okay."

Johnny was waiting for him. He greeted Neil with a grin that spread all the way across his wizened face. They shook hands heartily. Neil felt a real liking for the little fellow. He was square. When the other cab had departed, Johnny asked:

"Well, where away, Cap'n?"

"I don't exactly know."

Johnny's jaw dropped as if he thought his fare was slightly devalued.

Neil laughed. "We must stop at a filling station and get a map of Maryland so we can pick out our route. I want you to take me down the west side of the Potomac river. The road on the east side is watched by the state police. I'll have to pick out the spot on the map where I want you to drop me. It's about 80 miles."

"Geet!" said Johnny cheerfully. "A mystery! Give us the dope, Cap'n."

"I can't tell you the whole story now," said Neil. "But I will soon. I can give you one up the big guy who gave me knockout drops on Monday night was Prescott Fanning."

Johnny let out a whistle. "Well, I be dogged! And was it you croaked the so-and-so?"

"Not me. Somebody saved me the trouble."

"Well, I wouldn't of blamed you," said Johnny.

"Let's go!"

Neil's last act before leaving town was to call up Mattingly.

"Look, old fellow, there's no use you waiting for me any longer. I've had a clue that's taking me to Washington."

Neil could hear the honest constable breathing hard into the receiver. "But... but... my orders was to bring you back with me," he objected.

"Sorry," said Neil.

"You've got to come back with me."

"I don't know what you're going to do about it," said Neil cheerfully, because he was on his way.

He hung up laughing.

Lifting A Skiff

TWO hours later the taxicab came out on the river at a point where a side road ended at a steamboat wharf. As near as Neil could judge, they were opposite the spot where the big ships were moored. The river was over a mile wide, and the opposite shore was lost in the misty darkness.

Except for the shed on the wharf, there were no buildings nearby except a cottage standing on the top of a grassy bank about 30 feet above. Probably the home of the wharf tender. No light showed in any window. The heavy scent of wild-grape flowers hung on the air. There was no sound and a silence brooded over the countryside that made the city driver murmur:

"Boy! It would scare you down here when you turn off the engine."

"It's a great country," said Neil.

"If a man could only quiet down long enough to appreciate it!"

"Do I leave you now?"

"Wait until I make sure that there's a boat."

Neil found a skiff tied to a line running out to a post, and pulled it in. There were no oars in her, but he was beginning to learn the customs of the country now.

Searching inside the gate of the wharf-tender's yard, he found the oars in the grass, and silently brought them down.

"It's a darn shame to lift the man's skiff," said Neil. "But I'll make it up to him."

He and Johnny shook hands.

"You'll be hearing from me," said Neil. "Don't start your engine until I get away from the shore. It might wake up somebody in the house."

"Good luck," said Johnny.

Neil rowed out on the dark river. After a minute or two he heard Johnny start his engine. The lights were switched on, and the taxi turned around and disappeared over the hill. Then silence except for the creaking and the dip of his own oars.

When he got across the river he didn't know where he was. It was clear that if the spot was new to him it must be somewhere above the stretch that he had covered before, and he rowed down stream. Before he had gone far he came to a point of the shore that he recognized, and upon rounding it saw the dim bulk of the great ships moored close in. His heart began to beat, thinking of the coming meeting with Janet. What a lot had happened during the 24 hours since he had left her!

He rowed softly close to the towering steel bulk of the Abraham Lincoln. By counting the portholes he was able to take up a position immediately below the windows of Janet's little veranda.

He lay on his oars and softly whistled the meadowlark's call with lips that trembled a little. He was so keen to take her in his arms!

Closed Windows

HE LOOKED UP, watching for the weighted string to fall. Nothing came and he whistled again, a little louder. Still no answer. He supposed that Janet had fallen asleep and he was divided between irritation and anxiety.

How could she sleep when she knew he was coming? She had all day to sleep in. And what the devil was he to do if he couldn't waken her?

After whistling again once or twice, he rowed a little way out from the hull in order to look up at the windows. Even by starlight he could pick out the four windows of Janet's suite. They were larger than the windows on either side. Suddenly with a tightening of his breast he realized that all four windows were closed. There was no mistaking it; in each window the glass was faintly reflecting the star-shine. Naturally she couldn't hear his signal. Why on earth should she close the windows when she was expecting him?

Then he remembered that it was impossible for Janet to move the stiff windows.

In the first moment the bottom seemed to drop out of everything. What had happened? Had somebody been there? Had she been taken away? How could he get aboard without the ladder?

He set his teeth, and got himself under control. He rowed around the ships to the little platform at the foot of the boarding-ladder, and tied his skiff alongside the others. He didn't know if the extra guards were aboard tonight and he didn't much care. If Janet was gone, nothing mattered. There were no lights showing in Captain Bickel's cabin.

Neil finds Janet being cross-examined by the police, tomorrow.

STAGES OF RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is one of the oldest diseases known to man; the joints in the oldest skeletons ever found have shown rheumatic changes in and about the joints.

However there are different degrees of rheumatism from the slight pain in a joint to the severe pain and crippling that keeps the patient always in bed. And just as there are different degrees or stages in tuberculosis, heart disease, kidney, liver, gall bladder and other diseases, so are there various degrees of rheumatism.

It is therefore helpful to patients, the families of patients, and to the physician also to have a table showing the degree, or stage of the rheumatic condition.

Dr. Douglas Taylor, McGill University, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal gives the following table showing the four degrees of chronic arthritis or rheumatism. The table shows (a) the degree or stage as shown by the X-ray examination, and (b) the symptoms as seen by the physician and complained of by the patient.

The X-ray findings are:

1st Degree or Stage:—Soft tissue changes, swelling inside and outside the joint, some loss of calcium or lime with a little extra bone formation at edge of bones forming the joint (lippling).

2nd Degree or Stage:—Joint space definitely altered;—loss of cartilage or bone substance, some loss of lime, further changes in soft tissues, swelling of the capsule covering the joint with a wasting of the tissue adjoining the capsule, definite little bony lumps or spur formations.

3rd Degree or Stage:—Destruction of joints; deformities, stiffening of joints (loss of motion in joint).

4th Degree or Stage:—Extreme widespread joint changes; further destruction, and growing together of ends of bones forming the joints.

The "symptoms" in the four stages are:—

1st Degree:—Slight symptoms: pains or aches; discomfort; may be stiffness and swelling; patient active.

2nd Degree:—Moderate symptoms: pain, stiffness, creaking (crepitation); lessened movement in joint; patient getting about to some extent.

3rd Degree:—Severe symptoms: deformity; lessened movement; patient unable to completely look after himself; may be able to walk with difficulty.

4th Degree:—Although there may be actual pain the patient is helplessly crippled, usually bed-ridden.

Dr. Taylor states further that it is unfortunate that those in the third and fourth stages did not receive the necessary treatment earlier as much of the crippling could have been prevented if more institutions were equipped to treat these cases.

We may be queer, but we prefer nasty political squabbles to the sweet unanimity in Russia.

The X-ray findings are:

1st Degree or Stage:—Soft tissue

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK.—When Gilbert Maller presents to New York audiences some time this month a play called "French Without Tears," he will give the town its first glimpse of "the most hissed-at man in England."

This is Guy Middleton, whose function as target for opprobrious noises is not due to any unpopularity in his native land but is, rather, a tribute to his acting ability and good sportsmanship.

Middleton acquired his standing as a hissed-at man through having played notably in a stage presentation several years ago called "Young England." This was a melodrama written by an 83-year-old dilettante in the style of ranting fireworks that had been the fashion in his youth. Its characters were black, scoundrelly villains on the one hand, or spotlessly pure heroes on the other, and their speeches were sententious to the nth degree.

THE OLD gentleman had written

this play in all seriousness but when it came to be put on it turned out to be hilarious burlesque, serving for English audiences just as "Murder in the Old Red Barn" served American audiences—as an opportunity to laugh at outmoded theatrical fashions.

Mr. Middleton was the villain of this magniloquent opus, and audiences for months took delight in reviving the old British custom of hissing the villain. The actor, on his side, took such delight in being hissed at so enthusiastically that it became a joke among his friends and also with a good many strangers who recognized him and hissed wherever they saw him, off stage and on. In time he grew to expect every group he encountered in subways, on buses, in restaurants to break out into a chorus of sibilant sounds.

MR. MIDDLETON admits that he has no great wish to duplicate this tradition in America. It's laughs this time, instead of hisses. He will play the part of a young, rather thick-skinned but jolly beef-eater who goes to the south of France and involves himself in various affairs of the heart.

This is the play which ran for more than a year in London, and which he believes will go a long way towards making the season in New York a happy one.

The actor, in private life, is an expert mimrod and also something of a piscator. Usually his vacations are spent in quest of trout in the lochs of Scotland and also in the Irish lake country.

He is a quiet-spoken, cheery chap and a collector of literary fragments published prior to the 15th century. Mr. Middleton also expresses a lively interest in American hamburgers, his curiosity having been whetted by tales of their savorness told by nostalgic New Yorkers in London.

Willy Nilly Talks

By MARY GRABAM BONNER

"OH!" HAPPILY barked Rip.

"You're safe? You're all right?" He began to ask the same questions.

Honey Bear had asked. He had not heard, or noticed, that she had added that a Chubby would not go home.

"Rip, you've forgotten a little about it. In fact I felt a little worse about the way you felt over me than I did about anything else."

"So now I understand," growled Honey Bear. "You were still worrying about that. Come along, we'll join Willy Nilly, and we'll be back in Puddle Muddle in no time. Oh, won't they be glad to see you, Chubby?"

But once again Chubby said: "I can't go back to Puddle Muddle."

"He has been talking like this ever since I found him," Honey Bear explained to Rip. "I do not understand it. Please run and get Willy Nilly. He'll know just what to do and just what to say. I wish I did," she ended sadly.

Rip went running through the woods for Willy Nilly. The little man was puzzled because the dog looked both happy and sad.

"You've found Chubby, but he has been hurt or injured in some way?" asked Willy N

Fine AMERICAN BLENDS

like NATIONAL'S EAGLE

were winning the Nation's Heart!

AND what whiskies they were! . . . what glorious whiskies they were!

Of course, unless you were around in the old days, you can't imagine how those pre-war American blends tasted . . . for there haven't been any of them for over a generation. But get your father to talking whiskies as he knew them in the old days when the hansom cabs were spinning up and down the Avenue . . . and oh! Oh! . . .

How he'll open your eyes when he tells you that in the old days before the war, he never went into a restaurant, hotel, club or bar from one ocean to the other that didn't take pride in the magnificent American blends they served.

And he'll tell you, too, to show you the popularity of those pre-War blends, that wherever you went, whether it was Rector's in its sparkling heyday or Mike's place on the water-front, if you stood at the bar a while, it was amazing how often you'd hear men call for whiskies that were fine blends!

OF COURSE, that was entirely natural. For many of those pre-war blends were veritable masterpieces of the blenders' art. And when National Distillers says, "Here's the 1937 edition of the pre-war type of American blends!" . . . you know what National's EAGLE is!

Not "just another whiskey"! No, sir! But a type of whiskey that hasn't been possible for a generation! A new experience for every man under fifty! A glorious tradition of the past . . . renewed in 1937!

YOU couldn't have had National's EAGLE one minute sooner. It takes aged whiskies to make fine blends! Aged American whiskies! And we have had to wait till the Summer of 1937 for some of the whiskies used in this great blend to reach maturity.

But now the waiting's over. Today we offer you in National's EAGLE one of the first fine "pre-war" type of American blends possible for a generation.

A fine American blend . . . made the old American way . . . with matured American whiskey, every drop of which has been distilled in this country, in our own plants . . . by some of the very men who made many of the great pre-war blends! And with that old-time 100% American difference in taste!

Order National's EAGLE at the bar, club or restaurant, or take a bottle home from your dealer's . . . and get to know one of the GREAT American blends of this generation.

Black to Talk On Friday Night

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP).—Kenneth H. Berkley, general manager of the National Broadcasting Company here announced that Justice Hugo L. Black would speak from Washington over the nationwide facilities of NBC Friday night from 9:30 to 10:00 o'clock eastern standard time.

The announcement of Black's plans was made to newspapermen in the office of the Broadcasting Company after Berkley had talked with Clifford Durr, an RFC attorney and brother-in-law of Mrs. Black.

While the subject of the speech was not announced, broadcasting officials said they assumed it would deal with allegations that Black had been and still is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

The place from which the justice will speak has not been decided, Berkley said. It may be the broadcasting studio, his home, a hotel, or his office in the Supreme court building.

George A. Decker of Lloyd was arraigned and pleaded not guilty to sodomy, alleged to have been committed on August 12, last, also carnal abuse of a child on the same date. Raymond Mino was assigned as counsel by the court.

Case Transferred.

Samuel Hunt who was charged with abandonment had his case transferred to Supreme Court since Judge Traver is disqualified to sit. Judge Traver was district attorney at the time of the indictment against Hunt was found but Hunt was not apprehended for several years.

Lawrence Cody who has been confined to the jail for some time containing a plea of guilty to a charge of rape, second degree, had the balance of his sentence suspended by the court on application by Elmore Nathan his attorney. An agreement had been entered into he said and Cody had a wife and family and his services were required for their support. Judge Traver suspended the balance of the sentence during good behavior and paroled the defendant with instructions to report to Probation Officer Service today after which he will be released from jail.

Robert Hendrickson of High Falls who is charged with having attacked 14-year-old Ida Gledwasser at Allgerville on August 24, as she walked along the road to her sister's place, was charged with assault, first degree and also two charges of assault, second degree. He entered a plea of guilty to the assault, first degree, charge on condition the other charges be dismissed. He denied guilt of other than the one act. After his history had been taken Judge Traver postponed sentence until Monday, October 4, at 3 o'clock.

It is alleged that a statement has been made and signed by Hendrickson in which he, married and father of children, admits following the girl who was a summer boarder in the vicinity and on a lonely spot in the road accosting her. When she at first

Pheasant Hunters Says Boy Friend May Sleep Longer Killed Himself

Pheasant hunters who have been accustomed to starting out at day-break on the opening day of the season in the past will not have to arise so early to be in at the opening of the season this year for the opening of the season does not start until noon on Monday, October 12, that being the third Monday of the month, in this locality. This noon opening date is new to hunters and although the 1937 syllabus issued by the Conservation Department does not so state the time of opening on the first day has been set at noon.

Recently a hunter discovered the apparent omission from the syllabus and got in touch with the State Conservation Department and was informed that the opening time was noon. This omission as to time of opening is liable to get many hunters in trouble since in the past the opening of the season has always been at sun-up. Numerous hunters who have hunted pheasants in the past and who read the present syllabus may go ahead at dawn in the belief that they are within the law. Despite the fact that no notice of the noon opening on the first day is mentioned in the law and that fact was confirmed by the Conservation Department a few days ago by Deputy County Clerk Charles O'Connor through a conference with Albany.

Rena Bowman (above), 25-year-old mother of a 10-year-old daughter, faced a murder charge at Huntington, W. Va., in the fatal shooting of her sweetheart, H. K. Nicely, who was found fatally wounded in his car. She said he killed himself after she had told him they couldn't keep company any longer.

'War Of Suicides' Raging On Sino-Japanese Front

By JACK STINNETT

(AP Feature Service Writer)

Oriental temperament coupled with a hatred brewing more than 60 years is making the Sino-Japanese conflict a "suicide war."

In the two months of major conflict, an amazing number of cases of fanatical heroism ending in self-destruction have been reported on both sides. They range from the traditional hara-kiri of the Japanese to the suicide of masses of 300 or more Chinese who have walked stolidly into the withering fire of enemy batteries.

Tradition And Patriotism

On the one hand are the Japanese, aflame with their long-simmering feeling of "manifest destiny," and subscribing to a point of view, generations old, which has made a suicide a formal ceremony of expiation, devotion, protest or contempt.

On the other are the Chinese, presenting their most united front in recent times and giving vent to their new nationalism in feverish patriotism.

Early in the conflict, Shimizu Maho, a Japanese merchant, cast himself into the sea from the suicide island of Oshima that the government might have his $3,000 life insurance to add to the war chest.

Commander Kaoru Fujita, in Tokyo, divorced his bride of three months that he might have no distraction in his fervent application to the war. Three months later, in north China, he met heroic death in action.

Quicker Than Hara-Kiri

Tokyo newspapers reported that all Japanese aviators were equipped with pistols as well as the small, traditional Samurai swords. If they were shot down and had no time before capture to perform the rites of hara-kiri, they might shoot themselves with the pistol, the dispatch explained.

In August, while an air battle raged over Shanghai, observers saw a Japanese plane catch fire. Whirling his ship in a great flaming arc, the pilot, instead of bailing out, did a power dive into the Chinese lines, carrying with him a death-dealing cargo of bombs.

Over Peiping, Japanese aviators defied anti-aircraft guns to sky-write reports of their victories on other fronts. In the Woonung area, a dozen Japanese, stripped to red loin cloths, swam a creek under fire, clambered up the muddy banks and with their bare bodies, spiked a Chinese battery.

White Band of Death

At the junction of the Whangpoo and Yangtze rivers, 70 picked members of the Shirodatsu-

HUMAN BOMB
An artist's conception of the suicide plunge of a Japanese aviator who rode his disabled bomber into the Chinese lines and perished in the explosion of its deadly load.

kitai, the "White Band of Death," went ashore in a small launch. Those few who reached the wall of flame that was the Chinese land battery, died in hand-to-hand combat.

Such cases are, by no means, confined to Nippon's borders. There was the Chinese aviator who engaged four enemy bombers and returned again and again to the combat until his plane was shot to pieces.

Another of China's "devil dogs of the air" staged a lone raid over Shanghai in a September dusk. Flying low, he dived into the hail from anti-aircraft guns to drop bombs uncomfortably close to the Japanese flagship, Idzuma.

For days, daring Chinese operated a fleet of mosquito-like sea-sleds in the Whangpoo and Yangtze, defying the gunboats to blow them from the water as they dashed madly on solo runs into the fleet to fire torpedoes at close range.

March To Annihilation

It was the Japanese who reported, in the battle of Lotien, a women's "battalion of death," composed of 20-year-old Chinese communist girls who did not know the meaning of the word retreat.

And in the same battle, a company of 300 grimly determined Chinese crashed through the Japanese lines, inflicting terrific losses, and continued their advance until their battalion was annihilated.

President to Visit Canada Today for Visit of Good Will

Seattle, Sept. 30 (AP)—After two nights and a day of rest from his cross-country speech-making and inspection swing, President Roosevelt chartered a "hands-across-the-sound" visit to British Columbia today.

Shortly after breakfast he was to leave American territory for the first time since his inter-American peace conference visit to Buenos Aires last November-December.

It also was his second good-will trip to Canada in 14 months. July a year ago he went in Quebec after a sailing cruise around Nova Scotia and held up his western hemisphere "good neighbor" policy as an example for the rest of the world.

Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada, returned the President's 1936 visit early this year. Steps taken under the Roosevelt administration to improve Canadian relations included a reciprocal trade agreement and amendments to customs and tax laws.

The President's goal today on his three-hour journey across island-dotted Puget Sound aboard the Destroyer Phelps was Victoria, on Vancouver Island.

The destroyer Porter was enlisted as an escort.

In his party besides the first lady were Mr. and Mrs. James Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger and the latter's two children, Eleanor and Curtis Dall; Sen. Lewis D. Schwelbach and Mrs. Schwelbach; Sen. Homer T. Bone and Mrs. Bone, and Rep. M. C. Wallgren.

A royal salute from guards of honor was to signalize the President's arrival at Victoria.

Welcome Arranged

Lieut. Gov. E. W. Hamber, as the representative of His Majesty the King, had arranged to go aboard the Phelps with a welcoming committee.

Then the schedule called for a drive to government house, official residence of the lieutenant-governor, for luncheon.

Another drive around the city was planned before the President embarked around 3 p. m. (PST). Before starting his eastward trip from Tacoma late Friday, the touring Chief Executive, who already has chalked up over 3,000 miles of train and motor travel since he left Hyde Park, N. Y., September 22, had hundreds of more miles of motoring and sight-seeing before him.

After landing at Port Angeles, Wash., on the Olympic peninsula today, he planned to drive 27 miles westward over a stretch of wilderness and spend the night at Lake Crescent.

Another 231-mile drive around the Peninsula will be taken tomorrow, ending late in the day at Tacoma where he boards his special train to start homeward via Grand Coulee and Port Peck Dams, Grand Forks, N. Y., St. Paul and Chicago.

The President put in a quiet day here yesterday at the Boettiger home. He left the house once in the afternoon for a drive that took him past the public school where "Sister" and "Buzzie" Dall are pupils.

Henry Anderson of Kerhonkson Died

Henry Anderson, vice-president and director of the Kerhonkson National Bank, and for many years a prominent resident of Kerhonkson, died at his home there on Wednesday, aged 75 years. Funeral services will be held from the H. B. Hamilton Funeral Home in Kerhonkson on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial in the Pine Bush cemetery.

Mr. Anderson was a partner in the Anderson general department store in Kerhonkson and was treasurer of the Kerhonkson Water Company. For many years he had been prominent in the religious and civic life of the village and was an active member of the Kerhonkson M. E. Church. He had served the town of Wawarsing at one time as collector. In politics he was a Republican and had served for a quarter of a century as a committeeman in the town of Wawarsing.

Fraternally Mr. Anderson was a member of Wawarsing Lodge, No. 582, F. & A. M. of Kerhonkson, and the I. O. O. F. Lodge of Accord.

Mr. Anderson is survived by a son, A. J. Anderson of Kerhonkson; a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Holmberg of Sag Harbor, L. I.; a brother, James Anderson of Kerhonkson; and three sisters, Mrs. Martha Frost of Montclair, N. J., and Mrs. Della Pettibone and Miss Albertine Anderson of Kerhonkson.

The Rev. David Achterkirch, pastor of the Kerhonkson M. E. Church will officiate at the funeral services on Sunday.

Tired of Slogan

Washington, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police force is tired of the slogan that it "always gets its man." "We're still looking for the fellow who started it," Colonel S. T. Wood, deputy commissioner of the mounteds, chuckled today. "All we know about him is that he probably was an American." The slogan, Wood thinks, is pretty silly, especially because it "eclipses completely" the force's real motto to "Uphold the right."

Says He's 'Champ' Victim

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 30 (AP)—If anyone ever picks a "champion holdup victim," Harry Woods thinks he should get the title. His filling station has been held up 80 times in 10 years. Bandits took $55 from an attendant in the latest robbery, he told police.

PRESIDENT SEES HUGE BONNEVILLE DAM

Climaxing his western tour with a visit to the $51,000,000 Bonneville dam in Oregon, President Franklin D. Roosevelt (arrow) is shown as he looked from Bradford Island across the north spillway toward the Washington shore. In dedicating the project the President urged the widest possible use of power from the dam.

Historical Society Members to Visit Noted Temple Hill

The fourth annual fall pilgrimage of the Ulster County Historical Society is expected to attract a large number of members of the Society to historic Temple Hill at New Windsor, which is located about four miles south of Newburgh.

Members will make the trip by automobile and will meet at the Palatine Hotel, Newburgh, at 12:45 Saturday afternoon, October 2, and a basket lunch will be enjoyed at one o'clock.

The feature of the day will be a paper, "Washington and the Crown," by the Rev. A. Elwood Corning of Balmville. The speaker has made a long study of matters historical, and especially of those connected with the events that center around Temple Hill and guests of the day will doubtless find much of value and interest in what he will have to tell them.

The first of these fall pilgrimages was made in 1934, when members of the Historical Society visited Cragsmoor; in 1935 Minnewaska was the goal and last fall they visited the historic old Reformed Church at Kaatsbaan.

Barbers to Meet

An important meeting of Master and Journeymen Barbers of the city will be held this evening at 8:15 o'clock at Leventhal's Hall, Wall street. A speaker with an interesting message to all Master Barbers will be present.

Free Diphtheria Clinic on Friday

The second of a series of about town free diphtheria clinics will be held at the Rapid Hose house on Hone street on Friday afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock. Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, who will have charge of the clinic, is urging that parents who have children between the ages of six months and five years of age bring them to the clinic that afternoon. Older children who also have not been vaccinated against smallpox may also be vaccinated at the clinic. If desired, the purpose of holding these additional clinics is to afford to parents who are unable to attend the Tuesday afternoon clinic, the city hall to have their children immunized.

WOODSTOCK CENTRALIZED SCHOOL PROPOSITION

Woodstock, N. Y. Sept. 25, 1937

Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman, Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

I cannot believe that the small remaining opposition to the Woodstock Centralized School is a matter of dollar and cents. When Americans ever been that way about education?

However, assuming the worst, Mr. Linden, Mr. Zimm, Mr. Noyes and other citizens who are willing to put across the issue of simply plotting to add to their private fortunes by getting the best of the "little fellow" in the township, assuming that that hooky, 100% qualification rate may be lowered causing state aid to shrink and the tax rate to increase (why not assume too that Albany may abolish free speech?) and that figures lie, or liars do figure, and that the new set-up is going to raise taxes for those who can least afford it—so what?

Let us say there are plenty of farmers and others who have to work hard and long for every dollar and then can't count on it—as in the sale of milk—these folks will pay a larger proportion of the school tax. It is evident, then the guys who happen to have an income from their wife's father's soap factory or whatnot. So what? Aren't we used to being soaked? Isn't it just what one has to expect under our system of private ownership, private property, which we as Americans uphold? These fellows who are not going to feel the burden of the school tax—who may even somehow "make money" out of the new enterprise, are, as assumed, snarrier, more industrious, more saving than we are—or luckier. It must be so because this is the land of equal opportunity, and if we don't like it we can vote against it. Why it's an old story. The "little fellow" pays more for anything, proportionately it's expensive to be poor. More for food, electricity, cars. Does he then stop eating, wearing pants, buying juice, or the latest Ford model? Not if he can help it!

But what is it all for? What is dearest to us Americans? (I suppose it's different with the Chinese!) Is it not usually our children? Giving them a better chance than we had? Fitting them for the best of life? This, let us assume, is true. If it is not we are no longer a people worthy to survive. But assuming we do want the best—there is a doubt as to whether education as dished out today is the best. That is a healthy doubt, but not at all pertinent to the wisdom of building a centralized school.

The school is not the education. It is the machinery for education. Do we condemn better and cheaper cars because Ford makes millions, wears out his workers, sells cars to gangsters? Try going back to horse-and-buggy, lamp-light, home-bake days! It might be swell but who's going? Along with the frigidate let's afford somehow a modern plant for education. That's the first step. Next will develop, or be drawn in a new type of teacher. You need, not teachers in the present district school, but jallers, to keep the kids in a place they rightly despise. (Do you see those who can afford private schooling sending their young'uns to the one-room, all-grade child-pens?)

But perhaps you have lost faith in schooling altogether—because under the present system it is possible for the "graduate" to know nothing but the names of leading stars, cars and cocktails. The absurdity of this view need hardly be pointed out. Suppose a child is kept at home on an isolated farm in Wittenburg, not even taught to read. Is it possible he will never hear a radio, never see a movie, never overhear conversation? Sooner or later he will get some sort of "education", and how! Such parents should move to a private island.

Seriously one hasn't the slightest doubt that we Americans want real education, and that we are prepared to make sacrifices if need be, to get it. All we need is faith in ourselves and in the good old power of majority rule to get what we want and to make the best use of it.

Make it our Central School! Respectfully submitted,
VIVIAN JACOBSON,
(Mrs. George Franklin)

USE GAS HEAT FOR THE NEXT FEW MONTHS of changeable weather. Install a gas burner in your furnace and use it to heat your home during the next few weeks of Fall when it's warm and sunny one day and cold and damp the next—the time of year when the old fashioned furnace gives you the most difficulty. The comfort of having no furnace to tend or fires to build together with the perfect, even temperature in your home will more than convince you of the delightfulness of Automatic Gas Heat.

HAVE YOUR HOUSE MEASURED

Get the facts on how little it will cost to enjoy the benefits that only Gas Heat will bring. We'll be glad to make a survey at your convenience. There's no obligation, of course. Neither are you committed in any way. If at any time you are not perfectly satisfied with Gas Heat, the equipment can be removed in a few minutes without further cost to you.

OCTOBER—perhaps by this time you have already tired of furnace tending... with many long months of fuel shovelling, ashes and dust still to go.

IT'S NOT TOO LATE—by the installation of a simple little burner in your present furnace you can forget your furnace worries.

A FEW HOURS is all the time required to pipe your heating plant for Gas. If at any time you wish to go back to other fuels your furnace is not affected in any way.

The Cost? $1.00 a month pays for the use of the equipment plus a small installation charge. The fuel used may be paid for over a period of months by convenient methods. This offer applies to small and medium sized homes. Other gas heating equipment is available through your heating contractor for larger houses.

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

New York, Sept. 30 (AP)—Official announcement still is lacking as to the network plans for this year's world series, but all the indications point to a broadcast as usual. The games start next week.

By actual count, program premieres on the CBS and NBC list for Sunday total an even dozen. Numbered among them are Joe Penner coming back to CBS and Jack Benny returning to NBC because Frank Fay will appear Tuesday night on CBS as the guest of Al Jolson, his scheduled broadcast with Rudy Vallee on Thursday has been cancelled. On Friday evening, October 1, a pot luck supper will be served followed by a reception in the Reformed Church basement in honor of Mrs. Henry Honegger, a missionary from India. Mrs. Honegger was the former Lavina Dumond, who resided in this place during her early life. Since 1910, she has been a very valuable and much loved worker among the Hindus. All are indeed glad to have her here for a few days while on furlough. She will be more than pleased to see her many old friends and those friends will be glad to learn many things about the mission field from her.

Today

Broadway: "Wild and Woolly." The cinema's most pious trouble maker shows her wares again at the Broadway in a story concerning a town that goes back to the west of yesteryear in order to root out some undesirables. Starring little Jane Withers, it is to be expected that the play will show her spending her time getting into trouble and talking her way out again, and she does this with all the alacrity and skill that has made her famous. Her supporting cast includes Walter Brennan, Jackie Searl, Alfalfa Switzer, Bertie Churchill and Pauline Moore.

Kingston: "On Again Off Again." The comedy duo of Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, inactive for some time because of a quarrel between themselves, strut their stuff again before the cameras with no ill effects in this rollicking comedy that gives the two boys the opportunity to display their most satisfactory gags and antics. "One Mile From Heaven" is the other attraction with Claire Trevor and Sally Blane.

Orpheum: "Wee Willie Winkie." The glamorous India of Rudyard Kipling is shown at the Orpheum with Shirley Temple in the starring role of the story from Kipling's pen. It's all about the white man's burden plus England's skill at empire building and Victor McLaglen is featured in a cast of thousands. "Killers at Sea" is the other feature with Captain Wallace Casewells, Jr.

Tuzio Would Serve Y.M.C.A. Opening
Term at Prison,
Sick of Napanoch

Because he feels mentally superior to the other inmates at Napanoch Institution for Male Mental Defectives and believes that if he continues to be associated with the he too may become mentally unbalanced, Anthony Tuzio is seeking his release from the institution and his return to Sing Sing prison or some other penal institution where he may serve out a sentence of from 20 years to life and an additional sentence of from 5 to 10 years.

Tuzio appeared before County Judge Frederick G. Traver in a habeas corpus proceeding Wednesday afternoon and said he was "through with crime" and desired to be returned to an institution where he might improve his education and from which at an age of perhaps 60 he might be released and return to society with a better education and a trade with which he might make his living.

Had Bad Hearing.

He said that at a hearing in Sing Sing prison prior to his transfer to Napanoch he had been unable to understand the examining physician because of bad hearing.

His contention is that he is not a mental defective and does not belong in Napanoch although the examining physicians claim he is a fit subject for the institution.

He was charged with larceny in Kings county and sent to Napanoch under the law as it then existed which made it possible to commit a person charged with a crime who was found to be mentally defective. In 1930 he was in court before Justice Staley on a writ of habeas corpus and released from Napanoch and returned to the Kings county trial on the original charge. As a result he was sent late to Sing Sing and transferred to Napanoch in 1934.

Would Become Unbalanced.

He told the court that if he remained in Napanoch he believed he would become mentally unbalanced and said he considered himself superior mentally to the other Napanoch inmates and as a result kept to himself in the institution and would not mingle with the other men there. It was his aim to improve his education and learn a trade so that when he was given his freedom he might earn a living. He said he knew that if successful in his habeas corpus proceeding now he would be returned to a prison to serve out the sentence now pending.

Several letters were offered in evidence to show that he had a good command of English and was a good speaker.

At the institution he said he was well cared for and was entirely satisfied with the treatment he got but he desired to become associated with a higher type mentally of men.

Judge Traver reserved decision until the minutes of the case are transcribed and he has an opportunity to study them. Meanwhile Tuzio was remanded to the institution.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, Sept. 30.—The pupils and the teacher, Mrs. West, of the local school, have had many pleasant surprises since the beginning of the fall term, and more are to follow. On returning to school there was found a new teacher's desk, a new silk flag the law requires displayed in all schoolrooms and "The World Book Encyclopedia" which is composed of 26 volumes and "Unit Teaching Materials." This "World Book" is considered the last word in an encyclopedia and is certain to prove to be of great value in the school.

The visual education equipment has already made its rounds. Another showing is due this week. These still-films are also a source of pleasure and interest to the children, friends, and teacher of West Shokan school.

The pupils of the school who had done anything of worthwhile nature and the privilege of exhibiting at a fall fair last week. There were three departments in the fair: Flower exhibits, fruit and vegetables. Prizes were awarded to the winners: Helen Harrison, Harry North and Warren Hyde. Everyone is looking forward expectantly that the next fair will afford greater pleasure and interest.

The "Junior Town", the citizen club in the school, is active. The first meeting was held Friday in charge of the following officers: Charles Harrison, supervisor; Margaret Wagner, clerk; Dorothy Dwyer, headmaster; Maxwell Ludke, superintendent; Harry North, collector; Arthur Smith, constable, and William Wagner, judge.

On Saturday evening, Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge will hold a veterans' night observance. At this time 20 fifty year members, Henry L. Winchell of Kingston, and Virgil R. Merrihew will be presented with appropriate jewelry. Previous similar recognition has been accorded Simon Bishop, Walter F. Brooks, Chase W. Davis and John J. Dwyer, deceased.

Mrs. Chase Davis has recovered somewhat from a fall two weeks ago, and is now able to be up and about the house.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gibbons, of Staten Island, were over weekend visitors at the family summer home at Malibu Hollow. Their accomplished daughter, Peggy and Alice, motored to Illica Saturday for fall term entrance to Cornell University. Miss Alice, now 17, is beginning her freshman year there, while the older sister has already completed three years of study. Before coming to West Shokan this season the family group were away for some weeks on a trip to Puerto Rico.

DR. J. L. ELLENWOOD

The committee on arrangements for the first fall grand opening dinner at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening, October 5, at 6:30 o'clock, has procured Dr. James L. Ellenwood, state secretary of the "Y" as guest speaker.

Dr. Ellenwood, a pleasing orator, is expected to have a very interesting subject to deliver at the banquet, which will be held in the gymnasium. Indications are that it will be attended by one of the largest crowds ever gathered at an event of the sort in the "Y."

The Ladies Auxiliary will prepare and serve the dinner, the menu for which will be: Tomato juice cocktail, chicken, mashed potatoes, peas and carrots, salad, celery and olives, bread, coffee and ice cream.

General Secretary Robert L. Sisson stated after a checkup last evening, that more than 125 had attended activities and committee gatherings at the "Y." This shows how much interest is being developed in the organization, Mr. Sisson said.

Most Animals "Talk";

Rabbits, Hares Scream

A rabbit is usually a very silent creature, but the poor thing can "talk" when trapped or caught by a stoat. It screams terribly, and so does the hare, states a writer in London Answers Magazine.

Most land animals have a voice of some sort. Even the South American sloth, which never seems more than half alive, can make sounds. Of all large, warm-blooded animals it is said that there is only one that has no vocal cords and is quite incapable of anything but sign language. This is the giraffe.

Elephants trumpet, camels squeal, seals bark, stags at mating time roar, and the noise made by a hedgehog must be heard to be believed.

Natives of the Southern Soudan say that a species of python can give a sort of whistling cry, but this has never been established by naturalists.

Frogs can croak or bleat, but among lizards there are only a very few that have any power of making sound. One common in Malaya produces a loud ticking noise.

Fish, too, are dumb, though some species can make audible sounds when taken out of the water. The catfish croaks and one of the gurnards makes a similar sound.

The Iowa college of agriculture at Ames has more than 5,000 students.

Two Cases Marked Ready for Trial

Two cases were marked ready for trial on the call of the Supreme Court calendar. An action to recover penalty for a violation of the conservation law, No. 9, The People of the State of New York against George Gotsch, is first on the ready calendar and No. 57, Thomas J. Little against David Sherry and another, an action for conspiracy, is second on the ready calendar which will be taken up Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock before Justice Schrick. The conspiracy action is one which has been hanging fire for a long time and grows out of an alleged conspiracy between Kingston motion picture operators' union to prevent Mr. Little from securing a job locally.

31ST ANNIVERSARY OF W. T. GRANT COMPANY.

Beginning October 2, the Kingston W. T. Grant Company store will join with 479 other Grant stores in celebrating the 31st anniversary of the founding of the company.

Starting with one store in 1906, doing an annual business of $99,000, the company has grown to its present size of 480 stores reaching from coast to coast, and doing an annual business of $100,000,000 by strictly adhering to the policy expressed in these simple words by W. T. Grant—"not how much we can get for ourselves, but how much we can give to our customers."

The growth of the W. T. Grant Company is one of the epics of American business life. It is a story of normal, consistent expansion, based upon the practice of giving the public guaranteed quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices. Lower prices have been made possible by the ever increasing volume of business done by the Grant Company.

The first Grant store was opened in Lynn, Mass., by William T. Grant, the founder of the Grant Company. Ideas and theories which he had developed while working for others enabled him to make his first store such a success that his friends urged him to open a second store. This was opened in Waterbury, Conn. The second store also proved the soundness of Mr. Grant's principles and it was decided to expand still further.

W. T. Grant is now chairman of the board. His policy of training his own executives and promoting from within the ranks has opened the way for over 700 young and many women to grow to positions of trust and responsibility. Including saleswomen, over 17,000 regular employees are on the W. T. Grant Company weekly payroll.

In celebration of its 31 years in business, the Grant Company will offer many of its regular values at greatly reduced prices every Saturday throughout the month.

Martin of Taylor street, who was injured several weeks ago while on parole in Sullivan county, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home in Kingston. Forged from the highway by a car while patrolling the highway Trooper Martin suffered a severe injury to his head and face and was confined to the hospital for some time.

Restrictions Tightened
Berlin, Sept. 30 (AP).—Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German secret police, tightened the restrictions on the Protestant Confessional Church today with a decree closing all pastors' training colleges or equivalent educational facilities set up by the opposition at Protestant movement to train their own ministers. The official reason for the ban was said to be that the activities of these institutions infringe on the existing Nazi church regulations and constituted a flagrant disregard of state run facilities for training ministerial candidates.

Non-Support Charged.
Anthony Urbanowski, 41, of Danbury, Conn., was arrested at Walkill where he had been working on Wednesday by Corporal Baker and Trooper Klein and lodged in the county jail to await arrival of Connecticut authorities. Urbanowski was arrested under a warrant charging non-support.

A fleet of Chinese junks, loaded with stones, was taken up the Yangtze river 80 miles north of Shanghai to the Kiangyin forts where they will be sunk in order to strengthen the present barrier there against attacks by Japanese warships.

Chinese expect Japan to launch a joint aerial and naval attack on this vital barrier, which is the main protection of the capital at Nanking from the advance of the Japanese fleet into the interior.

The American army transport Chaumont arrived today from Chefoo and Tsingtao, up the coast, with 500 women and children, the families of American naval officers and sailors, en route to Manila.

The Chaumont took on one hundred additional refugees from Shanghai and will sail tomorrow for Hongkong. There 20 of the Americans will be transferred to the liner President Wilson for San Francisco. The others will continue to Manila.

China today banned the export of her supplies of mercury which are vital to munitions manufacture. Japan formerly imported two thirds of the Chinese supply. Now the entire Chinese output will be devoted to the making of explosives for use against Japan. While China now produces only 20 tons of mercury annually she is known to possess large reserves.

Junks Destroyed

Hongkong, Sept. 30 (AP).—Systematic destruction of scores of Chinese junks at Swatow was reported today by the Central (Chinese) New Agency.

Japanese from three warships seized and burned the junks yesterday, the agency said.

Twenty fishermen arriving in Hongkong today told of a submarine appearing near Hoi Tung September 22, ordering them to abandon their junks and then sinking them with shell fire.

The Chinese fishermen were

For the first time in more than a week, Canton had a night that was not disturbed by an air alarm.

Air raiders yesterday, however, bombed Tsingyuen, a city north of Canton, destroying a school, a Confucian hall, some houses and causing civilian casualties estimated at 200.

Official Inquiry
London, Sept. 30 (AP).—An informed source announced today that British colonial authorities at Hongkong had opened an official inquiry into the reported sinking of a fleet of Chinese fishing junks by a Japanese submarine.

Some 300 Chinese lives were said to have been lost in the attack on the vessels, many of which were reportedly under Hongkong registry and, consequently, British protection.

The inquiry was based on the story of the attack told Hongkong authorities by the captain of the German liner Scharnhorst. Despite Japanese denials, the informed source insisted that the Scharnhorst had called at Hongkong on September 27.

The German vessel's commander reported that the time that he had been picked up by survivors of the attack from the only junk which managed to escape. Several of them were wounded and were placed in a Hongkong hospital on arrival there.

"Creeping Death" in Japan

Tokyo, Sept. 30 (AP).—The mysterious "creeping death", an epidemic which already has claimed nearly 300 lives in Kuohu Province, seeped through the hygienic barriers around the city of Ommuta today into four neighboring communities, bringing 52 new cases. Authorities, alarmed at the possibility water sources had been deliberately polluted, ceased announcing the death toll. The best bacteriologists of Japan were unable to state definitely the cause of the disease. But 6,000 persons have been affected.

$350 Award in County Court

William Deyo and Florence M. Jacquelin, doing business as Deyo & Jacquelin, operators of the Creek Locks bus line, were awarded a verdict in the sum of $350 Wednesday afternoon in their action which was tried in county court against Hugo Schroeder. Plaintiffs sued for damages to a bus which was struck on August 15, 1934, at the junction of the old state road and Whiteport road by a car owned by the defendant.

The jury, including three women, was given the case shortly before noon and then went to dinner. At 2 o'clock Judge Traver summoned the jurors to the court room and instructed them that under a new provision of the law it was necessary for at least 10 of the number to agree upon a verdict. When 10 had agreed upon a verdict he instructed them they might report their verdict. Only a short time later the jury reported the verdict, the foreman stating that at least that number had agreed to the verdict.

Arthur B. Ewig appeared for the plaintiff and Joseph H. Forman for the defendant. At the conclusion of the case Judge Traver excused the jurors on the panel until Monday, November 8, at 2 o'clock, to which time court adjourned. At that time criminal matters will come up.

Science Gets Brain Of Miss Maguire

Chicago, Sept. 30 (AP).—The brain of Patricia Maguire was treasured by medical science today for its potential value in opening new channels for the treatment of sleeping sickness.

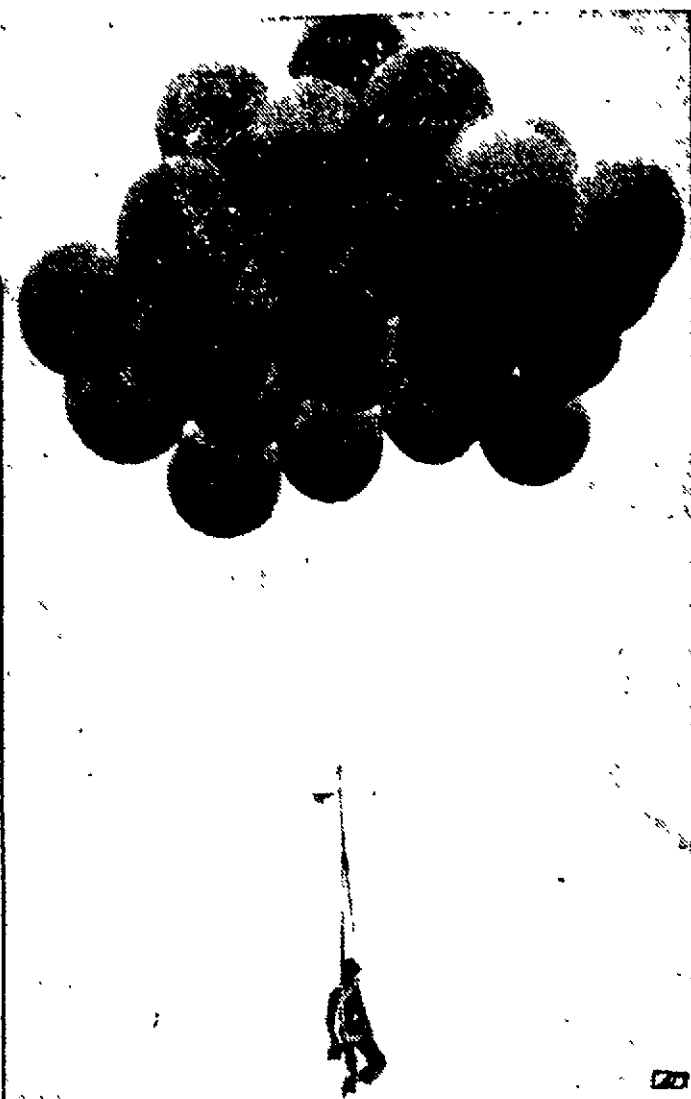

From microscopic study of the organ physicians hoped to gain more knowledge of lethargic encephalitis—the baffling ailment which kept the 32-year-old stenographer in a 67 months' slumber.

Dr. Eugene Traut disclosed a post mortem, performed shortly after Miss Maguire's death from pneumonia Tuesday night, provided only one new discovery which, he said, "may be the first step toward control of the disease."

Physicians found the frontal lobe of the girl's brain, which controls speech and movements of the tongue, head and eyes, had withered. Dr. Traut said the atrophied condition never before resulted from sleeping sickness. Funeral services for the suburban Oak Park "sleeping beauty" will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday with a requiem high Mass at the Ascension Roman Catholic Church, a few blocks from her home.

Among the pallbearers will be two policemen, Bernard Gerard and Olaf Hector, who gave blood to Miss Maguire during the last few days of her illness.

The Rocks of New York's Palisades are said by geologists to be 150,000,000 years old.

HE TAKES AN UNEXPECTED RIDE

At Mingalone, a Paramount News cameraman, found himself in an embarrassing spot when he tried out a multiple balloon ride at Old Orchard Beach, Me. Shortly after this picture was made of him, the guy rope at left broke and Mingalone, much against his will, was off on a 13 mile jaunt. He was brought to earth uninjured when rifle shots fired by the Rev. James J. Mullen, punctured the balloons.

Schryvers Visit Nash Motor Co.

George J. Schryver and Harry Schryver of the Schryver Motor Car Co. left this morning for Chicago where they will attend a two day convention of Nash dealers and distributors.

Following the convention a special train will take the party for a tour of the Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha plants of The Nash Motor Co.

Mr. Schryver will drive home one of the new 1938 Nash cars. Nash cars this year will have conditioned air systems for winter driving, providing cleanliness and comfort, no matter how fast the car is moving, nor how low the outside temperature may be. Fresh, outside air is thoroughly filtered, then warmed, and forced into the car; 400 cubic feet a minute at ordinary driving speed. Temperature is uniform. The windshield and windows do not fog. In all seasons, the air in the car can be kept completely clean, even through a dust storm.

This is one of 83 new Nash features for 1938. Six of them are radical advances over 1937 Nash models.

Mr. Schryver will also bring back one of the new 1938 Indian Camp Trailers.

Drunken Driving Proves Costly

George R. Clinton of New Paltz found it a rather expensive proposition to operate his car while under the influence of liquor. Arrested Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock on the Saugerties road by State Troopers Arthur Reilly and Merritt while those officers were making an investigation of the accident in which William J. Mooney of Tonawanda, N. Y., lost his life, the defendant was held in jail for a hearing Wednesday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Walter Webber. On being arraigned and found guilty of the charge Judge Webber imposed a $100 fine and a 30 day jail sentence on Clinton. The jail sentence was suspended but the $100 fine was paid. Clinton's arrest took place near Lake Katrine as the Troopers were doing duty at the accident scene.

With a crowd applauding him as he walked down the gangplank at Norfolk, Va., upon his return from Europe, Hugo L. ## BRITISH LABORERS FAVOR BOYCOTT UPON JAPANESE

London, Sept. 30 (AP).—The British labor party, avowedly indignant at Japanese aerial bombardment of Chinese cities, planned today to demand an emergency session of Parliament as the first step toward a world boycott of Japanese goods.

Labor party leaders announced the matter would be thoroughly thrashed out at an executive meeting at Bournemouth tomorrow. Immediately afterward, Major Clement Attlee, the parliamentary leader of the party, was expected to go to No. 10 Downing street and ask the special parliamentary session.

The House of Commons is not scheduled to reconvene until October 26, but the labor party was thought ready to call on Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to summon the Commons before that date for a dull dress debate on the Far Eastern situation.

Leaders of the free churches, meeting at the city temple, added weight to labor's demand for action with a sharp resolution urging the British government and the League of Nations to "stop Japanese atrocities by any means possible."

Dr. Frederick W. Norwood, minister of the City Temple and well known in the United States from his frequent visits here, struck the key note of the meeting with the heated declaration: "At present I would not buy anything that came out of Japan if my life depended on it."
